SLENDER CLUE IN ECTOR CASE

Artilleryman Saw Six Men Go Up to Pass; Five Returned, Greatly Excited

An indefinite clue which it was hoped man or men who murdered Pvt. Jesse Ector, Company H, 25th Infantry, between the afternoon of Wednesday, January 26, and Friday, January 28, at the top of Kole Kole pass near Schoffeld Barracks, has proved too intangible to aid in solving the mystery of Ector's death.

The clue was the statement of an artilleryman that he saw six colored soldiers going toward Kole Kole pass late Thursday afternoon, and the statement of another soldier that he saw five men, apparently excited, coming eight months. down from Kole Kole pass still later in the evening. Neither of the men could identify any of the colored soldiers.

If the statements are correct and Ector was murdered by a number of companions, it is still thought possible that they were civilians, possibly discharged men wearing the uniform.

The theory that Ector was not killed by soldiers is borne out by the bullets found in his body, which were .32 caliber and were not fired from an army revolver. No revolver of as small bore as .32 has ever been used in the army. Commanders Investigated.

Commanders of each company of the 25th Infantry at Schofield Barracks were ordered immediately after the murder to make a searching investigation in their companies and try to find out the movements of their men during the time Ector was absent, as he left barracks Wednesday night, ostensibly for Honolulu, and his body was found Friday afternoon. Company officers failed to find anything from this investigation which would throw light on Ector's death.

For the civil authorities, Deputy Sheriff H. H. Plemer has been busy on the Ector case almost continuously since the body was found, but except for one slight clue, which has led to nothing so far, has found little to Close watch is being kept on the jor Williams has been to the mainischarged men of the 25th who have been loafing about Honolulu, in the hope that among them some one will be found who knows how Ector met his death. These men, it is said, were in many cases discharged at sea on the transports, in order to get them away from Honolulu, but soon after they reached the mainland they returned looking for an easy living and expecting to get it by gambling with members of the 25th, or in some other illegitimate way.

SIGNAL CORPS HELPS BOY SCOUTS PERFECT THEIR WIRELESS WORK

In preparation for their rally work on the last day of the Carnival, February 26, the Boy Scouts have asked permission of the government to send a wireless message from the palace grounds to Molokai, using a wireless apparatus which they will erect as a part of the show they are to give. On account of an order requiring that all amateur wireless plants on Oahu shall be kept sealed, special permission must be obtained before the message

With a detachment from Company E, Signal Corps, Fort Shafter, Capt. Edwin A. Hickman is assisting the Boy Scouts in preparing for the wireless demonstration, and for the boys' benefit erected a field wireless plant in the capitol grounds Saturday. Capt. Hickman will continue to aid the boys in perfecting their work until Carnival

Commissioner James A. Wilder has ourchased a complete wireless outfit for use of the scouts.

GEORGE A. VAN SMITH,

TAKEN TO COURT Had Protested That They Were Unfairly Treated By Police at Time of Arrest

The desire of military authorities to get at the truth concerning the arrest of 13 members of the 25th Infantry, rounded up by detectives in I wilei, led them to turn the men over to the civil authorities for trial. In the police court this morning the men pleaded guilty and were given suspended sentences, punishment to be given them at Schofield Barracks.

Because of the claim of the soldiers that they were discriminated against by the police who they said captured them and let white men go, and the denial by army officers of a statement published in the Star-Bulletin that one of the men resisted arrest, the case has attracted a great deal of interest at Schofield Barracks.

Today it was shown that the soldiers mistook plain clothes men from the detective department who stood around them for the "white men" who were allowed to go. Two white soldiers taken in the raid said they were not in the game. As there was no evidence they had been in it they were not charged with gambling and dismissed.

That one of the soldiers did resist arrest was shown by the statement of several detectives that the man jumped up and ran past two officers, and was carried to the ground by a third detective, who fell on him.

The soldiers given suspended sen-Roads on the other side of the tence today were L. Kinney, W. Johnson, P. Gibson, A. Russell, W. Rogers,
